DOWN IN A COAL MINE

An Explosion of Gas Takes Place.

HUNDREDS OF MEN IMPRISONED.

Some of Them Rescued Alive and Others Still in the Mine, but the Loss of Life Will Be Over a Hundred—Fifteen Scenes as the Wives and Mothers Meet the Bodies of Their Dear Ones at the Mouth of the Shaft.

SOUTH McALLISTER, I. T., Jan. 9.—One of the most appalling mining disasters on record occurred at Krebs, a settlement about five miles from this place, Thursday afternoon, by which probably over a hundred people lost their lives. Just as the day shift were about to come to the surface from the mine operated by the Osage Coal Mining company, in shaft No. 1, a terrible explosion occurred. There were upwards of 400 men in the mine at the time, most of whom were near the entrance to the cage which was to bring them to the top. Those at the top heard the explosion and at once prepared for the work of rescue.

The news spread rapidly, and it was not many minutes before the entrance to the mine was surrounded by a wailing and almost panic-stricken mass of humanity, composed chiefly of women and children. The scene at the time baffles description. Miners from other sections came pouring into the settlement, offering what assistance they could in the way of rescue, but owing to the flimsy nature of the earth through which the shaft had been made, they were of little assistance.

Just before the explosion occurred the hoisting cage had arrived at the top with half a dozen men. As the last man stepped from the cage the explosion occurred, and the force of the concussion forced the cage nearly a hundred feet in the air. A second later a scorching flame shot upward driving the men back to a place of safety.

Many of the men, some say nearly half, employed in the mine, succeeded in effecting their escape by climbing up through the air shaft. One of the men who escaped in this way climbed fully 450 feet with a broken leg. Many of those who climbed to the top were badly burned, in some cases the flesh stripping from their hands as they grasped the ladder.

There were many sad scenes witnessed as the bodies of the dead were brought to the surface. Wives and children gathered around weeping and moaning, strong men turned away to hide the moisture that would gather in their eyes, in spite of their utmost efforts to keep it back.

It will be fully a week before the bodies of the entombed men can be reached and brought to the surface. Work will be pushed as fast as possible, however, and every endeavor will be made to get them.

It is impossible yet to give an estimate even of the number of lives lost, but it is generally believed that it will reach at least one hundred and very likely more. Many of the men who succeeded in getting out alive will die, owing to their severe injuries.

What caused the explosion can not be stated, but it is supposed that some miner fired a blast without warning, a proceeding in direct violation of the rules of the mine.

Many of the bodies recovered are so charred and blackened that identification is impossible.

So far as can be learned the names of the dead thus far identified are: George Sundsay, Jr., George Lindsey, Jr., William Russell, Mike Jacomo, Ted Blenden, John Steera, Joe Genessio, Steve Speera, Bennett Moss, Joe Corrant, Antonio Genessio, Tommy Cain, Joe Rocco, John Quinn, Jim Quinn, Mike McShane, George Russell, Ted Kibble.

The names of the injured can not be ascertained with anything like accuracy, owing to their scattering among the village houses.

There were about 400 at work in the mine, and of these 150 as near as can be ascertained escaped, the remainder being in the mine at this writing.

The rescuers encounter many serious drawbacks in their work. Many tunnels are closed entirely and big loose boulders are balanced perilously on shelves of rock adjoining the air shaft and the main shaft, which a breath of air might almost hurl down upon the rescuers. Notwithstanding these dangers, the rescuers keep bravely at their work, and at 5 o'clock yesterday evening had recovered forty bodies. The rescuers work at both the air and the main shafts and bodies were rescued by both routes.

At the various places used as morgues there were about twenty unidentified bodies and fragments of bodies.

Not So Destructive.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Jan. 9.—By the explosion of gas in No. 9 vein, at the Nelson shaft, yesterday morning, one miner was instantly killed, another fatally injured and a boss miner and superintendent slightly hurt. The dead miner is Paul Grunzel, and Philip Desert is the man likely to die. Superintendent Steele is severely burned about the hands and face, and Boss English is badly burned about the body.

Speaker Crisp is much better today, and if he continues to improve as he has in the past few days he will soon be out.

NO CHILIAN WAR RUMORS.

Both Countries Seem Waiting for the Other to Say Something.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—There was a sudden cessation of Chilean war rumors the other day, in fact a cessation of any kind of rumors. The impression grows that the efforts of the British representatives in Santiago, and of Sir Julian Pauncefote in Washington, as first intimated in these dispatches a few days ago, will be instrumental, were no other pacific influences at work, in bringing about an amicable understanding.

But as has also been stated, there is as yet no disavowal by Chili of Senor Matta's curt and irritating note of several weeks ago, nor has Senor Montt conveyed in an official form any apology or explanation tending to allay the irritation caused by previous communications. These, however, it is confidently expected, will follow when the United States shall have indicated its views upon the answer of Chili to its demands already made. This answer has not yet been received at the state department.

In the meantime no change has been made in the policy of the navy department on the matter of putting everything in readiness for whatever may come.

THREE DEAD AND THREE INJURED.

Terrific Explosion on South Canal Street, Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—A terrific explosion occurred last night in the boiler room of the Warren Springer company's building on South Canal street. A number of employees were in the building at the time the explosion took place and so far three are known to have been killed outright and three others so badly injured that their recovery is doubtful.

The names of the dead are: Edward Bush, white, laborer; Patrick Rogers, white, fireman; Arthur Hall, colored, fireman.

The injured are: James Higgins, fireman, terribly scalded; Henry Oswa, laborer, internally injured, can not live; John Lee, colored, fireman, frightfully bruised, can not live.

The cause of the explosion is as yet unknown. The engineer says he left the engine room but a few moments before the explosion occurred, and that the boilers were all right.

All the injured were taken to the hospital, where it was stated that two of the injured would undoubtedly die.

Wire in a Boy's Foot for Months.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Jan. 9.—While playing about the yard last May, Master Harry Williams, of this city, tramped on something that gave him great pain in his right foot. It was thought to have been penetrated by a nail or something of the kind, but nothing but an abrasion of the skin could be found by the attending physician. The wound did not heal, however, and up to this time the boy has been obliged to go about without a shoe on the injured foot, the pain being so constant. Recently a sore broke out on the instep of the right foot and last evening it broke. Instantly a piece of wire began to protrude. It was removed and by measurement proved to be two and a fourth inches in length and as thick as a darning needle.

China Still Objects to Blair.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Inquiry among officials, who would be acquainted with the fact, did it exist, fails to confirm the report, purporting to be a cablegram published in a New York paper, that China had withdrawn her objections to ex-Senator Blair as minister from the United States to that country. No such information has been received at the Chinese embassy. It is said by an official, in a position to speak advisedly, that there is not the remotest possible chance of the Chinese government changing its opinion as to the desirability of Mr. Blair as minister to that country.

Suing for Overwork.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 6.—David Yates, who was a night fireman in the American Wheel company's works, filed a claim with the receiver of that company yesterday for $204.60. This amount is due him, he alleges, because while he was employed to work ten hours a day he was required to work twelve, and sometimes more. It is for this overtime, amounting to 1,808 hours, that Yates asks the amount of money specified in the claim.

Premature Explosion of a Blast.

ENGLISH, Ind., Jan. 9.—An accident is reported at the Marengo stone quarries, resulting from the premature explosion of dynamite, by which two brothers, Charles and Stroud Vannetter, were terribly injured. Stroud's skull was fractured, and his added to a broken arm and other hurts, makes his recovery hopeless. Charles suffered a broken leg and arm, and his hand was crushed. It is feared he also received internal injuries.

Wreck at a Crossing.

ANDERSON, Ind., Jan. 9.—The east-bound passenger train, due here at 7:20 o'clock a. m. yesterday, ran into the rear of a freight train at the Brown street crossing. The passenger locomotive was badly wrecked, and the freight caboose was split open and set on fire. The fire department saved the train from burning. No one was seriously hurt.

Stricken Down with Paralysis.

ZANESVILLE, O., Jan. 9.—R. C. Smith, of Mansfield, deputy collector of internal revenue, suffered a partial stroke of paralysis here yesterday, and the result is doubtful. He had been suffering with the grip at his home, and began his official duties before he had recovered his strength. He is seventy years old.

Battle Anniversary.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Friday the seventy-seventh anniversary of the battle of New Orleans was honored by the display of flags on the public buildings.

STRIKING EVENTS.

Such Marks the Course of the New Year.

ESPECIALLY IN A BUSINESS WAY.

Important Decline in the Prices of Wheat and Cotton, the Latter Lower Than It Has Been for Over Forty Years. A Depression in the South While Business is Only Fair in Other Parts of the Country.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: The first week of the new year has been marked by some striking events. There has been an important decline in the prices of wheat and cotton which have been held of late a little too high for foreign estimates of value, so that exports were somewhat checked. The decline will bring out larger orders for export.

Cotton has dropped to the lowest price since early in 1849, viz.: 7.44 cents for middling uplands. Receipts at the south continue greater than last year, and though exports are also greater, the stock accumulated and largely carried by banks at various points has a depressing influence. This affects trade throughout the south, and at Memphis the outlook is considered poor and collections are very slow. At Nashville trade is only fair, though money is easier; at Little Rock trade is dull; at Galveston very conservative, with failures much exceeding those of last year in number; at Savannah trade is quiet though money is easier, and at New Orleans banks are easier and a better feeling is seen in the money market, though unusual quantities of cotton, sugar and rice are being carried. The demand for sugar and rice is strong and active, with slightly better prices, but cotton is declining, with heavy receipts.

Trade is fair in other parts of the country. Boston business is better in some lines, with considerable activity in dry goods, new goods being opened and selling freely. Boots and shoes improve slowly, manufacturers having fair employment, but being anxious for further orders. An improved demand is seen for rubber goods, but wool is quiet. At Hartford, wool, hardware and groceries are in fair demand, and dry goods dull. At Philadelphia liberal orders are noted for spring materials, and while trade in other branches is now very light, the prospect is considered good.

Baltimore reports a healthy money market, and Cincinnati activity in clothing and moderate trade in whiskies with a favorable start for the year. Cleveland trade is good for the season, and rolled iron in good demand. At Pittsburgh the outlook seems better, pig iron is stronger and finished iron in good demand. Chicago reports some increase in receipts of barley, cured meats, cheese and cattle, receipts of oats nearly double last year's, of flour, corn, rye and dressed beef fully double, and of wheat three times last year's. Dry goods sales are light, though payments are better; sales of clothing and shoes are larger than a year ago, and money is in fair demand with the supply ample for legitimate trade.

Milwaukee finds good indications for the spring trade, and heavy snow helps the lumber business. At St. Paul trade is quiet, as usual, with excellent prospects. At Minneapolis the car famine is over and the output of flour 172,040 barrels, against 114,000 last year, with lumber sales of 1891 exceeding those of 1890 by 67,700,000 feet. At St. Louis cold weather causes better trade in heavy clothing and other trade is seasonable, the grain blockade having broken. Trade at Kansas City is quiet and money in light demand. Collections throughout the northwest are very fair, though slow at most southern points.

The great industries report no important change, though in iron a large business is being done, and the tone is improved. Some improvement is seen in bar and plates, and fair business in structural iron. The coal trade is ragged, though the demand is beyond all precedent. Less demand is seen for copper, though large sales have occurred. Tin is weaker and lead dull.

The money market has been well supplied at this point and other markets throughout the north are easier.

The business failures during the eight days since Dec. 31, number for the United States 393, and for Canada 42, or a total of 435, as compared with a total of 329 last week and 292 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 403, representing 375 in the United States and 28 in Canada.

COTTON GROWERS CONVENE.

Hundreds at the Memphis Meeting. Variety of Crops Advocated.

MEMPHIS, Jan. 9.—The big cotton growers' convention is in session here. Governor Buchanan, the commissioners of agriculture from six states and 1,500 planters and cotton factors are present.

Papers were read by Colonel S. R. Godwin, of Memphis, and Colonel Hector D. Sam, commissioner of agriculture of Alabama, showing that bankruptcy and ruin threatened the cotton states if the policy of raising exclusively cotton and buying meat and bread was pursued any longer. The convention seemed to be entirely in sympathy with the speakers. A committee on resolutions was appointed which will report later.

The organization was made permanent, to be known hereafter as the Cotton Growers' Association of the South, with Ira G. Holloway, of Mississippi, president, and a vice president from each of the cotton states.

John W. Nelson, grandson of Thomas Nelson, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, died at Nyack, N. Y., Friday evening, at the age of eight.

GARZA IDOLIZED

By the Mexicans of the Rio Grande. Diaz's Shortcomings.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 9.—Garza, the would-be Mexican revolutionist, was a few years ago the editor of a Mexican paper in this city, where he is well known. He is a man of great personal beauty and of fine physique. The Mexicans on the border almost worship him, and, although there is a price on his head, none can be found who would kill him.

Several of his followers have come to this city within the last few days to purchase arms and ammunition, and have departed with the goods unimpeded. They report President Diaz as almost sick with nervous prostration, and further say the Mexican army is wavering between Diaz and Garza. Diaz now holds his position in defiance of the constitution, which limits the president to two terms. Diaz has also broken his pledges upon which he made his campaign among the people.

Foolhardy as it may appear, he solemnly promised his constituents that in the event of his election, he would declare war and win back Texas to the Mexican republic. The ignorant classes do not comprehend the magnitude or danger of this performance, and clamor for him to perform his pledge. It is claimed by the revolutionists (and such they call themselves) that not only Garza not be killed, but that before the business is ended, he will be joined by the army and the common people, and will march in triumph to the capital.

While the Texans have no love for the bold fellow, the public sentiment is in his favor, and the speedy downfall of President Diaz's illegal reign is predicted.

Moving Toward Mexico.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 9.—The latest reports received from the Rio Grande frontier indicate that numerous bands of revolutionists are moving toward Mexico, and that unless their march is interfered with in the next few days by United States troops or Mexican military authorities, the majority of them will have reached Mexico.

They are all thought to have one objective point in Mexico, where they hope to meet and join forces, and Monterey is said to be the city upon which the first combined assault is to be made. The Mexican government has been informed of this plan, and during the last two days there has been a general shifting of troops from the garrisons in the state of San Luis Potosi, and the lower part of the state of Nueva Leon to the Rio Grande frontier of the state of Tamaulipas.

MORE DESTRUCTION DONE.

Further Accounts of the Havoc Done by the Georgia Cyclone.

ROANOKE, Va., Jan. 9.—Additional details received concerning the cyclone in Randolph and Chambers counties Wednesday night are: Five miles from here the house of James Williams was blown down while a dance was in progress and three men were killed and four women badly hurt. Other occupants were slightly injured. The path of the storm was about one hundred yards wide. It swept down the Savannah and Western railroad track for two miles, racing with a passenger train which narrowly escaped destruction.

At Milltown nearly every store was blown down, together with the Baptist church, college and many residences. Professor Gibson, of the college, was killed and twelve pupils hurt. No less than thirty pupils were more or less injured at Milltown. Five miles further on three negro cabins were taken up by the cyclone and carried about a half mile and three children were killed. The storm laid timber, houses and fences low in its path. It is not yet known the full extent of the damage done and the number of fatalities.

A Mexican's Revenge.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 9.—Jesus Bruno Martinez, convicted of the murder of an old jeweler of this city, was executed in the precincts of Belan prison Thursday. Just before undergoing the fatal sentence he was permitted to take leave of his friends and of the prison officials. While he was in the act of embracing, according to Mexican usage, the chief of the secret police who had been particularly active in bringing Martinez to justice, the latter drew a knife from under his coat and stabbed the chief three times, although not fatally. He was overpowered and shot without further delay.

Fly Wheel Bursts.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 9.—Thursday evening a thirteen-ton fly wheel in the Hall Safe and Lock company's plant burst. The building was almost completely wrecked. One piece weighing a ton was thrown 200 feet and through the roof. Shortly before a 300 pound emery wheel had burst. This caused the engine to "run away." Only about fifty of the 800 employees were in the building at the time. Nobody was hurt.

Death of a Prominent Physician.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 9.—Dr. A. B. Luse, one of the oldest and best known physicians in Hamilton county, died at his home, near Mount Healthy, Thursday at 9 a. m. Dr. Luse is best known for the great services he rendered in the cholera epidemic in 1832. The funeral will be held Sunday at 11 a. m., from the Christian church, Mount Healthy.

Seems to Run in the Family.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 9.—Wilton Hill, cashier of the Jamesburg National bank, who died here two weeks ago of the grip, is alleged to have been a defaulter to the sum of $30,000. A peculiar mania for embezzlement seems to run in the Hill family. Wilton's brother, Charles Hill, while cashier of the National bank in this city, appropriated cash and securities aggregating over $100,000 and then committed suicide. John T. Hill, another brother, stole $400,000 from the Ninth National bank last year, but died before the disclosure.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 1892.

The Louisville Courier-Journal and Times talk as though the Legislature couldn't get along very well without Harvey Myers.

PRESIDENT HARRISON should send a copy of his message—with the reference to gerrymandering marked—to the Republican Legislators in Ohio.

The employees of the Homestead Steel Works—Carnegie & Co.—are reaping some of the benefits (?) of a high tariff. Their wages have been reduced, and a strike is impending.

While the Republican Legislators of Ohio are at work on that Congressional gerrymander they probably lose sight of the fact that the Democrats have control of the Legislature in New York and may do a little gerrymandering themselves to even up things.

FORAKER's followers charge that some of the "boodle" they used in the late Senatorial fight was not expended according to instructions. Things have come to pretty pass when they openly admit they resorted to corrupt practices to secure a seat in the U. S. Senate.

SENATOR PEPPER, of Kansas, has introduced a bill authorizing Uncle Sam to loan $100,000,000 to the people of Indiana on real estate securities to enable them to pay off their mortgages. The Senator believes in asking for what you want if you don't see it. But he has evidently forgotten that the late "Billion Dollar" Congress pretty thoroughly cleaned out the treasury.

That branch penitentiary at Eddyville was turned over to the State Dec. 30th, 1890, but General H. B. Lyon, the Commissioner who had charge of the work of building continued to draw his salary of $300 a month until Governor Brown was inaugurated. Here's $1,800 paid out of the treasury without any warrant of law. No wonder the branch "pen" has cost the State such a big sum, if this is the way the thing has been managed. Stop the leaks. The wonder is that Governor Buckner sanctioned such doings. He thought, says the Auditor, "that the work of sinking a well, completing the turnpike, etc., on the outside needed the attention of the Commissioner, and continued while he was in office to approve the claims of Commissioner Lyon." The idea of paying General Lyon or any one else $300 a month for superintending the sinking of a well and building a pike. The Attorney General should be directed to bring suit to recover the money thus paid out without proper warrant of law.

THE COUNTY ASSESSMENT.

An Increase of About $200,000 Over Last Year's—The Figures by Precincts.

The County Board of Equalization adjourned Friday afternoon, after being in session five days. The Board will meet again, however, on the 20th, to hear any complaints that may be made.

The assessment for this year shows an increase of $207,444 as compared with 1891. The total as made by the Assessor and his assistants amounted to $9,518,250. Nine of the precincts showed a gain over last year of $239,085, while there was a loss in five precincts of $85,466. This left a net gain of $153,619. The Board added $53,825, which makes the total gain $207,444. The total assessment is $9,572,075.

The BULLETIN is indebted to Mr. John C. Everett, Mason County's popular Assessor, for the following interesting figures, which show the amount of assessment in each precinct, together with the loss or gain as compared with last year:

| | | |
|------------------------|-----------------------|-------------|

Total.....$9,572,075

Of the amount added by the Board, Maysville and Chester come in for $34,000, and the rest of the county for $19,825.

THERE has been a big slaughter of the "cotton-tails" since the snow fell a few days ago. Lovel got in over 1,000 rabbits yesterday. He sold most of them to Brightman Bros., who shipped them to the East last night. Hill & Co. got in 500 last evening in one lot from Blue Licks. In addition to these, the firm shipped over 50 dozen to Cincinnati during the week.

FOURTH CLASS CITIES.

Some of the Features of Their Charter as Agreed Upon by Their Representatives.

The census of Maysville recently ordered by the Council hasn't been completed, but it is learned that the enumeration gives the city a population of about 7,500. This is not sufficient to place Maysville among the cities of the third class under the new Constitution, and we are therefore very much interested in the charter recommended to the Legislature by the representatives of the cities of the fourth class. These representatives were in session at Frankfort this week, but adjourned Thursday. A Courier-Journal special from there says: "After a great deal of discussion and many motions, the convention, by a large majority, agreed to recommend that the Mayor, City Attorney, Police Judge and Chief of Police either be elected by a vote of the people of the city or else by the City Council, as any one of the cities in the class may provide by a city ordinance. But in the event that the Legislature may deem a charter with such privilege in conflict with the new Constitution, and which many of the delegates express themselves as believing, then the convention unanimously recommends that these officers be appointed by the City Council. To that end the convention passed a resolution and submitted it to-day to the Chairmen of the House and Senate Committees on Municipalities. The delegates claim that in order to subserve the interests of good government in these cities, to hold the low class of colored people in subjection in many of them in which they now predominate, the Legislature ought to grant, if it can be done under the new Constitution, the option of providing by ordinance for the mode of selection of the chief officials of the cities.

"They say that in certain towns the negroes can easily elect one of their own class over the best citizen in the place. Also to avoid such an evil, the convention proposes to recommend unanimously that all voters must be registered, and that the payment of the poll-tax be the prerequisite to the registration. On this point, however, certain members who are known to be well up in law, gave expression to doubts on the constitutionality of such a system of registration that would discriminate against any class of people, but the convention, nevertheless, submits the question to the Legislature in hope that some modification or mode may be finally adopted that will answer the desired ends.

"The warmest and longest contest was made over the liquor license law, but an agreement was finally reached in a recommendation that each city be granted the right to fix the amount by ordinance at a sum not less than $500 and no greater than $1,000. At present the licenses in these cities vary from $100 to $1,000, Richmond and Middlesborough being in the $1,000 class, and the latter city having nineteen saloons, from which the city is drawing a revenue of $19,000.

Wait For the Big Show.

A manager who expends thousands of dollars in order that nothing will be neglected that might add to the enjoyment of his patrons certainly deserves success, and, as a rule, he generally gets it, if the public would endeavor to discriminate between responsible companies and those who possess no stability. There are plenty of good shows, but, unfortunately, there are hundreds which are utterly devoid of merit. Now, anyone can tell at a glance if they see a magnificent new store with massive plate glass windows, that it necessarily calls for a great outlay of money to erect it, and the stock in such a store is generally of the finest. The same line of reasoning to theatrical enterprises; if, for instance, when you see a show billed in the lavish and expensive manner that characterizes "She Couldn't Marry Three" company you can rest assured that there is money and push back of it. The beautiful, artistic pictorial lithograph work is the finest and costliest on the road. No lithographing firm would attempt that kind of work without having ten thousand dollars down to insure them from loss. This is only one of the many items of a great show. So there is not a doubt that the production of "She Couldn't Marry Three" is the biggest show of the season.

Why Coffee Is Adulterated.

The main reason for the adulteration of coffee is that there is not enough of it to go around. Mocha now sells at the highest price ever known, which is about 25 cents a pound in large quantities for the green bean. Pure Java sells for 23 cents a pound and pure Rio for 14 cents a pound. These are very high prices and the supply of the best grades is limited. The temptations to adulteration are now therefore at the highest. Some low grade Brazil coffee was recently sold at 11 cents a pound, and, when that comes to be doctored by the grinders, the coffee part of the product will be small. There is a wide difference between 35 cents a pound and 10 cents. It is a difference between the best and the poorest, and generally represents the difference between the pure article and the adulterated.—New York Sun.

Pawned a Five Dollar Bill.

A man who possessed a five dollar bill, and wanted to blow it in badly, hit upon a novel plan the other day by which to save and spend it both. The bill was given to him by a friend, and he was determined not to part with it. After a lengthy debate with himself he evolved the brilliant scheme of pawning the note. He paid a visit to his uncle, raised $4.63 on the bill, and spent it according to his tastes. When further funds came in he redeemed the original note.—Philadelphia Record.

THE MARKETS.

Cincinnati Tobacco Market.

(Thursday.)

The breaks remain heavy and the market is unchanged from yesterday. For old there was a firm market; good and fine leaf, the supply of which was small, held active at full prices. Common and low grades continue in steady demand. New tobacco does not show much change, but shippers were, as a rule, satisfied with their sales.

Of the 380 hds. (new) 41 sold from $1 to $3.95, 37 from $4 to $5.25, 38 from $6 to $7.35, 50 from $8 to $9.50, 59 from $10 to $14.75, 22 from $15 to $19.25, and 3 from $20 to $21.50.

KHEDIVE'S FUNERAL

Egypt's Dead Ruler Laid to Rest.

THE NEW RULER PROCLAIMED.

The Sultan Says That the Oldest Son, Abbas, Shall Reign—All Honor and Respect Shown to the Dead Man—Various Other News from Abroad.

CAIRO, Jan. 9.—The body of the late khedive arrived at the Abdin palace, this city, from the palace at Helouan, at about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The remains were preceded by the British and Egyptian officials of rank, and were followed by the officials of the khedive's household.

After the celebration of solemn and impressive religious rites at the Abdin palace, the body of the dead ruler of Egypt was taken, at 2:15 p. m., to Fifi, where the khedive recently built a handsome vault for the reception of his body and those of his family after his death.

The route from the Abdin palace to Fifi was lined with British and Egyptian troops, who presented arms as the body of the khedive was taken to its final resting place. The police, who were present in strong force, had considerable difficulty in keeping the crowds from pressing upon the troops, but the utmost decorum prevailed.

The streets were packed with people in all the costumes imaginable, forming the usual pleasant picture seen upon such occasions in towns about the southern shore of the Mediterranean.

The house-tops were alive with people gathered to witness Tewfik Pasha's funeral, and emblems of mourning hung from the windows of rich and poor alike.

Contrary to the general rule in such cases, the feeling of grief expressed by the people at the death of the khedive seems to be genuine beyond any doubt, and there is no denying that the foreign officials in Egypt are very sorry to lose the man who has proved such a docile ruler in able hands.

The Khedive's Successor.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 9.—The sultan has formally appointed Abbas to the khedive in place of his father. This prompt action on the part of the porte gives much satisfaction to the British element here. The sultan has signified his willingness that the existing Egyptian ministry should continue in authority until the arrival of Abbas.

British Trade in 1891.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—A review of British trade for the year 1891 shows a heavy increase in the imports of food and raw material. The Daily News says that foreign discredit and adverse tariffs have diminished the foreign demand. Dearer bread and the diminished foreign demand for goods are against the trade for 1892.
